

The Circle at Zurich Airport

A new service and meeting centre, "The Circle at Zurich Airport", is being built on 37,000m² of land in the Butzenbühl area. The building complex consists of a usable area of approx. 180,000m² with around 5,000 employees and seven different modules, which are interwoven throughout the whole complex. The project was developed using the design-to-cost method.
